

Ludke Hall

Harvard Business School, Boston MA

Ludke Hall is a lovingly restored former residence on the campus of the Harvard Business School. Uses include a senior faculty and support staff offices, lounge, meeting/conference rooms and entertaining facilities. Modern technological treatments (i.e. dimming and control, long life and efficient light sources, lighting design that minimizes glare, etc.) are carefully integrated and disguised within the architectural envelope.

Architect: Baker Design Group